During the 2016 VMAs Kanye made a bizarre statement and performance in which he urged the audience to beat up Donald Trump. The statement, combined with the performance left many followers on social media asking if the rapper was serious. Kanye had been absent from live performances until the 2016 VMAs where he appeared on stage without the required tuxedo and black pantsuit. During his absence from the studio, Kanye had been seen on the runway and on multiple magazine covers. "I would like to apologize to the VMAs, they were very special to me," said Kanye West. "I didn't want to take up any more of the time of this young audience. I apologize for that." It seems that Kanye West is ready to return to the stage after returning to the studio in late 2015. Kanye did not say if he would be releasing music in the near future, but stated that his inspiration will be his daughters.Q: What does it mean when the output of the following python script is: File "ifile.py", line 7, in ? Here is the code: import string con = open('ifile.txt', 'r') out_str = con.read() print(out_str) After running it, the output is: File "ifile.py", line 7, in out_str = con.read() NameError: name 'con' is not defined But I cannot find what line 7 is referring to, as line 6 is empty. A: The line number is the line that contains the variable con. If you run the code in IDLE you will see line numbers at the bottom of the window. You can specify the beginning and end of a line with the.format() method of the string module: con.read().format(...)
